CHAPTER 1: THE BIRTH OF LARRY

Once upon a time in a hospital, a strange child was born, to the parents of Charlotte Jogman and Liam Jogman, Larry Jingleberry.

He was considered a very strange child by the children at school. Despite being at a very young age Larry had gray hairs, was balding, and his face was covered with wrinkles. Larry however did not let it get to his head, he believed his appearance does not matter, but what does to be important. Larry was able to convince his parents to give up their company, Charlotte and Liam Corporation, and make him the new CEO. He quickly rebranded the company to Larry Corporation.

He decided to change the services of the company, to better help the people. Larry read a lot of stories as a child. About being heroes, who stood up and defeated the bad guys. Larry wanted to be like them, and save people. So that is exactly what he did. He got the employees to help people and stop the crime in the city of Bradenton.

However Larry's life went downhill quickly, when a mysterious figure appeared, and kicked Larry's parents off a cliff, and ran away into a cardboard box and mysteriously vanished. Over here is a drawing of what child Larry viewed as his parent's killer. He left behind a name tag that read "The person who killed your parents was JOE HOT! 555-JOE-HOTT, call to tell me your revenge story." This extremely angered Larry, and he destined his life to becoming the greatest superhero in the entire world.

Larry decided he needed to make a costume, become an adult and get a more threatening name, he then changed his last name from Jogman to Jingleberry, drank the epic growth serum and designed his latest and greatest costume! After becoming the world's greatest superhero, Larry realized he would actually have to stop crime and save people to earn the title

Larry wandered the streets of Bradenton, searching for crimes. Crimes that Larry could stop, with a good ol' kick in the butt and punch in the face. Thankfully, after hours after hours after hours of searching Larry found a crime.

“Hey there missy, gimme all your money, and your purse. Please.” Said the CRIMINAL!

“AAAAH!!!!” said the old lady. “Somebody help me!!!”

Larry jumped in with a super sick backflip and another super sick backflip. “Unhand that purse you vile fiend! Or you’ll regret it.”

“Who are you?!?!?!?”

“I... Am Larry Jingleberry.”

Said Larry Jingleberry. “Leave them alone. Or else.”

“You said that already!” Said the CRIMINAL!

“It does not matter that I said it already, now get punched!” Larry said, as he punched the criminal in the face, kicked in the butt, and threw into an exposed electrical panel.

“Ouchie man! That really hurt” the criminal said, with a bunch of electrical burn marks.

“That's what you get for being a criminal!” Larry said.

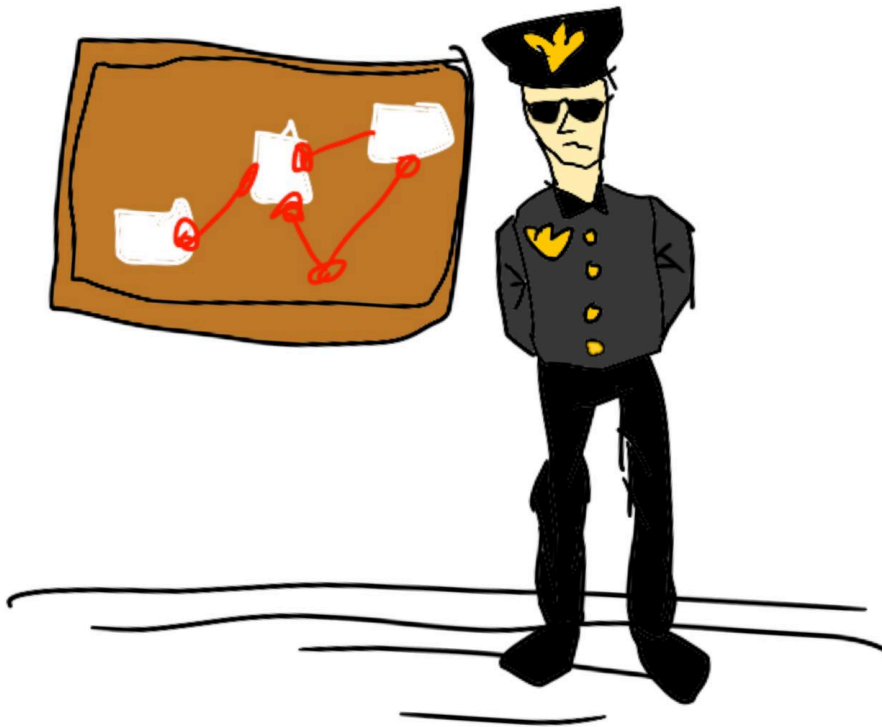

The old lady walked up to Larry, “Oh my gosh! You are my hero Larry!!!”

“Awesome.” Larry jumped away into the shadows.

Much later, Larry became famous, everyone knew Larry’s name as a great hero. However this was far from the truth. Under the surface, Larry had a grudge against the cat, Flaffy. He believed he was a glutton and he hoarded all the granola bars. Larry got so jealous, so when no one was looking, he destroyed the stashes of granola bars at factories, supermarkets, and even in peoples homes. However, no one knew that behind all this destruction of granola bars.

Meanwhile at the Bradenton police station...

The police chief is pacing around the investigation room, with a crowd of cops surrounding him.

“We have got to find whoever is destroying these granola bars!” Said the police chief.

“Yeah, I’ve been getting hungry. All my snacks mysteriously vanished.” a cop said.

“Well if we don’t stop him, we’re gonna lose ALL of our snacks! So you better get to it!” Said the Police Chief.

“Oh no!” said another police officer.

“Our snacks!” said another another police officer.

“So you lazy cops better solve this case, or NONE of you are ever going to get another snack in your life because of this MADMAN!” the Chief said.

“YES SIR!” All the cops said in unison.

Meanwhile... At the home of Larry.

After a long day of stopping crime, Larry went home and decided to turn on his TV to check on the news. He turned on his TV, and then switched the channel to channel -1, FJW News.

“Good night everyone in the city of Bradenton,” said the news reporter. “Tonight we have heard news of a new criminal in this city. The mad granola-bar wrecker.”

Larry spit out his milk. “What! How did they know!”

“We do not know who this criminal could be, they could be anyone!”

“Thank goodness. They aren’t even close.” Larry thought to himself.

“Please be advised to protect all of your boxes of granola bars, and maybe any other snacks similar to granola bars to protect yourself from the granola-bar wrecker. This is FJW news, and we are signing off to a ten hour commercial break! Good night Bradenton!”

CHAPTER 2:

LARRY VS MARY

Mary Jingles was in her evil lair, along with her evil henchmen, Gary B, who were both devising a EVIL plan to defeat Larry.

“Haw haw haw! Larry will never defeat me! I know his super secret! He is the one destroying all the granola bars! And when I reveal this to the world, no one will trust Larry!” Said Mary.

“That is brilliant Mary! Larry will never recover from this!” Gary B. Responded.”

“Now, we will find Larry’s home. And defeat him, then we release his secret to the world.” said Mary. “Now go hand me my laptop, I have to search for Larry.”

“On it sir!” said Gary, running to find Mary’s laptop, then he picks it up and hands it to Mary Jingles.

“Thanks Gary. Now it's time to find Larry.” Mary opens up the secret software “The Find Larry Jingleberry 2000.”

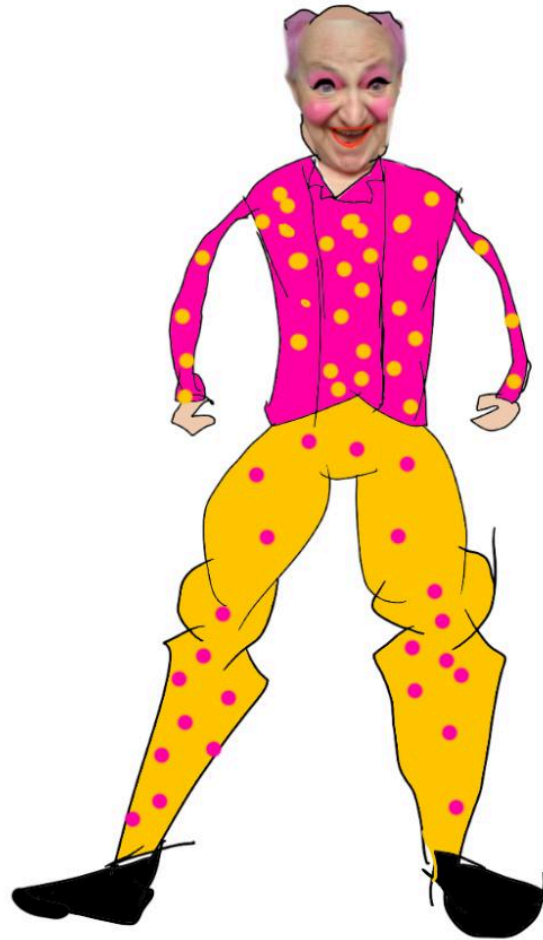

“GREETINGS MARY. I AM THE COMPUTER. WHO ARE YOU SEARCHING FOR.” Said the computer.

“Larry. Larry Jingleberry.” Responded Mary.

“BEEP BOOP BIPPITY BOP. LARRY LIVES AT 22 JINGLEBERRY ROAD.” The computer answered.

“This is so awesome! Larry will be dead!” said Gary B.

“Shut up Gary. Go get the plane ready.” Mary Jingles said

LATER...

Mary Jingleberry flew her plane to the home of the superhero known as Larry Jingleberry. Once she arrived at the house, she then jumped then broke open Larry’s door and jumped in.

“Who’s there?” said Larry.

“Mary.” Said Mary Jingles.

“Mary who?” said Larry.

“Mary Jingles,” said Mary. Everyone laughed. “Now enough Larry. I know your secret.”

“What secret?”

“You are destroying all the granola bars!”

“How did you know!!” Larry said, ultra surprised with a cherry on top.

“I always knew you hated Flaffy, we went to the same daycare y’know.” Mary said. “You were jealous because he had all the granola bars and you never asked him for any.” Mary continued. “That’s why you wanted to destroy all the granola bars. And now I will destroy you, and reveal your secret to the po-po!”

“Why are you doing this!” Larry shouted, filled with anger.

“Because I am not quite fond of you.” Said Mary. “You are indeed rather annoying.”

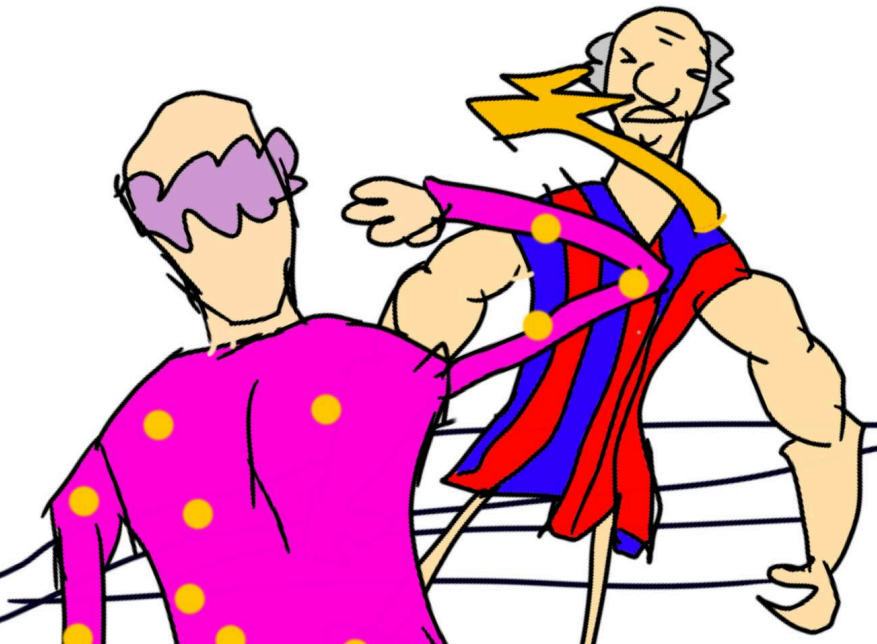

Mary jumped into the air, and punched Larry in the face.

“What was that for!?!” Shouted Larry.

“Did you not listen to my whole speech?” Said Mary.

“Yeah I wasn’t really paying that much attention.”

Mary punched Larry once again.

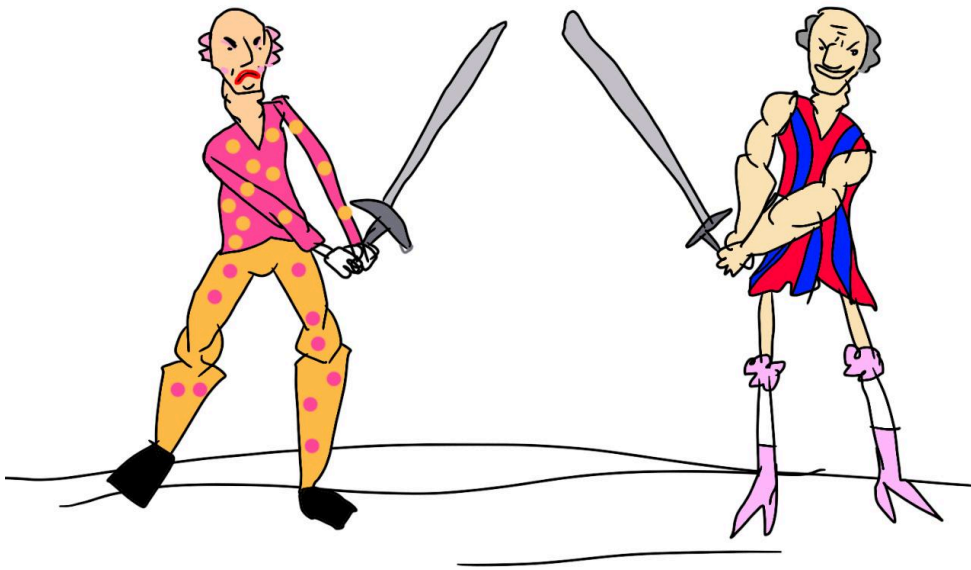

“So you want to fight huh? That's what you want to do? I will beat you. In self defense.” Larry said, as he then draws his sword, and Mary takes out her sword too.

“I thought I was the only one that carried a sword around at all times!” Mary said

“Me too! We’ve got so much in common!” Larry responded. “Now, I won’t let you reveal my secret. So give up now, or else.”

“Never!” Shouted Mary, charging at Larry with her sword, as she prepares to slash Larry blocks her.

“Getting tired yet Larry?” Says Mary.

“We just started fighting!” Larry responded to Mary.

“Yeah, I’m just wondering how much endurance you have.” Mary responded.

“Oh If that's the case, I’m doing fine. Not tired at all.” Larry said.

“Then you should be able to handle THIS” Mary said, charging at Larry with her sword, Larry quickly dodging to the side. “Oh. You could handle that.” Mary said.

“Shoot... I’m out of ideas.” Mary dropped a smoke bomb, and vanished.

MEANWHILE... AT DA BANK...

Mary kicked down the door, and shouted. “EVERYONE! GET DOWN!” She screamed to everyone in the bank, causing them to get down and cower in fear. While everyone was cowering on the ground Mary opened the bank vault, then stole all the money and ran out.

Larry was looking at the whole scene from afar, knowing he couldn't do anything because his secret would be revealed. But then Larry got an idea.

"What if I attack Mary at her lair!" Larry said to himself. "She couldn't reveal her secret, because no one's there!" Larry continued. "Mary couldn't have gone far." Said Larry. Larry stepped out of his house and looked for a trail to find where Mary could have gone. "She left behind her makeup, It could give me a trail."

Larry then followed the trail, leading him all across Bradenton, until he found a quiet place in the woods, a corn field guarded by a fence, seemingly going on forever and ever. Larry ran through the field, until finding a mysterious hut, and then he kicked the door open.

“Larry?!?! How did you find this place!” Mary said, rather confused.

“I followed your trail of makeup.” Larry said, then he turned to the camera.

“Remember kids, never leave behind evidence.”

“Whatever! You fell right into my trap!” Mary took out her secret trapdoor button, trying to trap Larry, but she was in the trap, making her fall into the pit.

“You may have defeated Mary, but you’ll never defeat me!” Mary’s henchman, Gary, walks into the room. “Prepare to die!”

Larry punches Gary in the face, and throws him into the pit with Mary.

“I’ll be back!” Gary shouts while falling into the pit. “Maybe in the next book! Who knows! But I will be back!”

Larry walks away from the base, whistling, as he opens the doors out of the evil lair and then starts walking home from the woods, retracting his steps from Mary’s trail of makeup she left behind before.

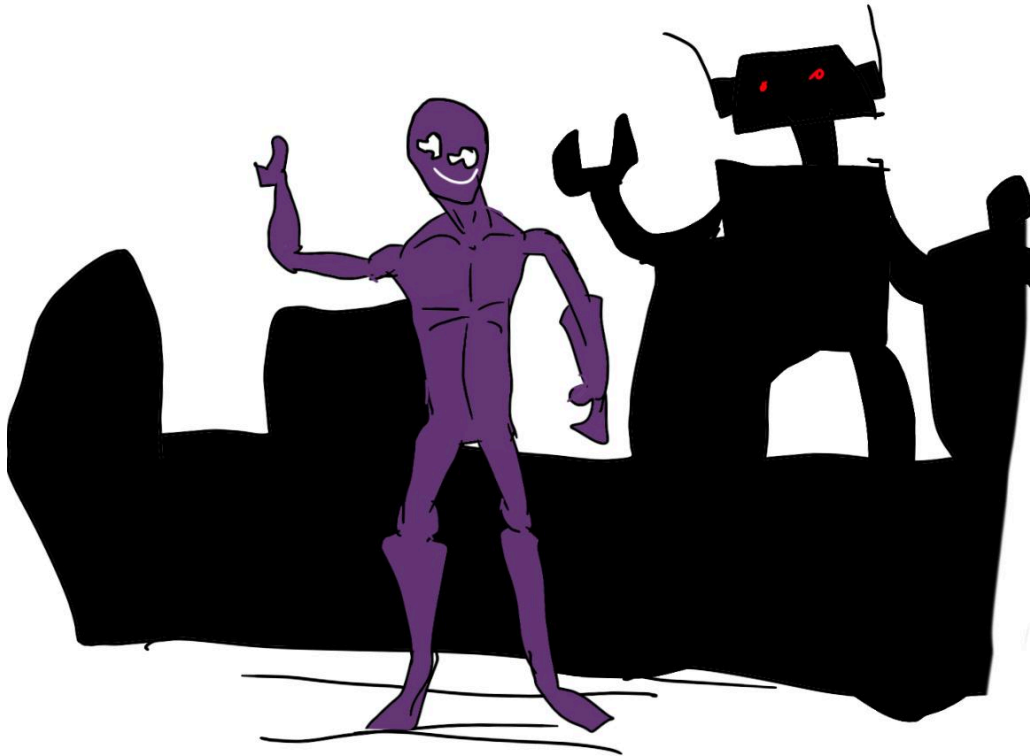

Larry has arrived home. He gets on his couch and turns on his TV, to channel -1 to see what the news is saying.

“Hello Bradenton. The newest superhero, Larry Jingleberry has saved Bradenton from the evil villain, Mary Jingles, charged with robbing a whole lotta banks.”

Much later... Larry turns off the TV. “That oughta throw them off my trail.”

CHAPTER 3: Formation of the Larrians

Larry woke up with a mysterious shock in the morning, but he ignored it. After taking a stretch he left off to go stop some crime, when suddenly, a giant mech was terrorizing the town. Larry exited his home to investigate what was going on, and then he saw Gloop outside of his home, waving to him.

“Hi Larry!” said Gloop.

“Hi Gloop!” said Larry. “Wait a second... aren’t you the guy controlling the big robot terrorizing the town at this moment?”

“By gosh diddly darn, you’re right!” Gloop responded with a chuckle.

“Aw shucks. Well that means I better arrest you then!” Larry said, taking out a pair of handcuffs, “Off you go to the big house!”

“I’m afraid I can’t let you do that.” said Gloop, in a monotone voice. Gloop zapped Larry, kicked him, then injected him with a syringe and kicked him again. “See ya Larry!” Gloop flies away with an umbrella.

“Bye Gloop!” Larry said, writhing in pain. “Ow, ow, ow. Oooh that hurts...” Larry gets back up. “I need to defeat Gloop, he's a big ol' meanie! But I'll need some help with that super big robot he has...”

LATER...

Larry is sitting in his office, waiting for new recruits to help him defeat Gloop, after a bit of waiting someone walks in.

“Hi, I’m Liam. I'm here to become a Larrian and help you stop gloop and stuff...”
Said the potential recruit.

“What are your strengths?” responded Larry

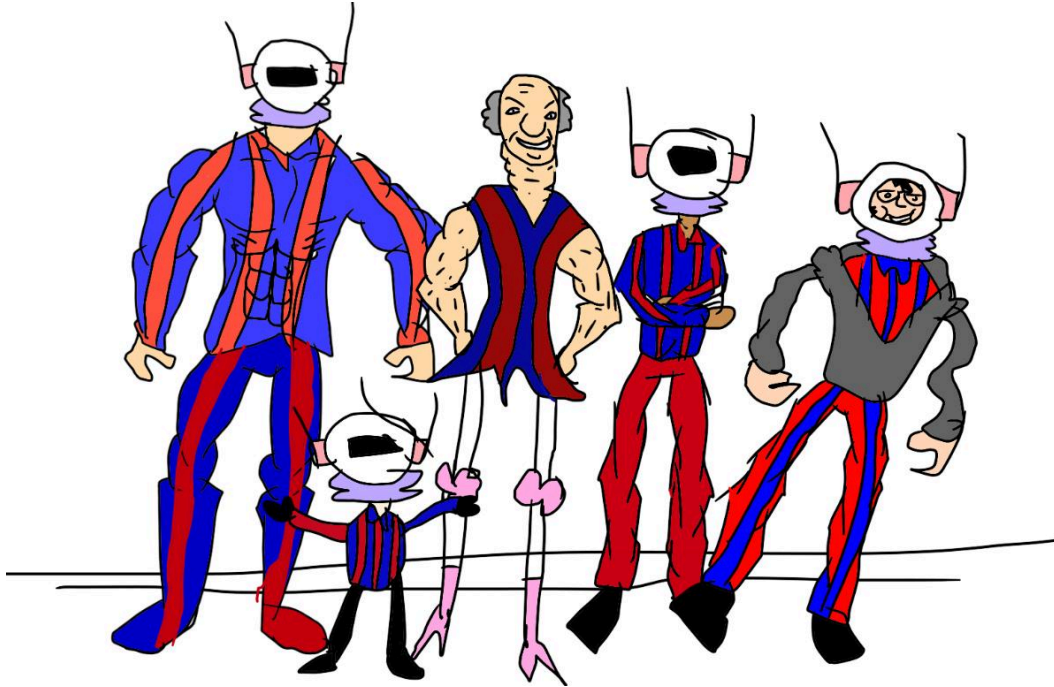

“Umm... Hmm... I read books.”

“You’re hired.”

“Thank you so much!”

After a day of recruiting, hiring, and putting ads in newspapers, Larry was finally able to form his ultimate team of greatness and other very cool and awesome stuff, known as Larry, and the Larrians.

The team consisted of Liam, who was the brains, Andrew, who was the brawns, Arnold, who was the heart of the team, and Gerald, who was just kinda there. And of course who could forget Larry Jingleberry, who leads the team to victories!

The Larrians charge into the city of Bradenton, and see Gloop's robot, shooting missiles at the buildings, tearing down and throwing them at the road, eating the traffic lights, kicking things, and some other dastardly stuff robots do to destroy the town.

"Let's see, here's the plan, Gerald, you will make up a distraction for the robot. While the robot is trying to crush Gerald, Andrew will help Liam get up onto the robot, and you will destroy the robot's circuitry. Then, we will all attack Gloop's army, and defeat Gloop himself!" Larry told the Larrians.

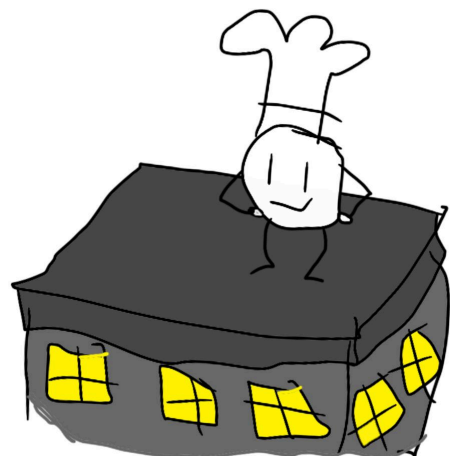

Suddenly, Gloop's giant robot grabs all the Larrians.

"I knew I shouldn't have joined this!" Gerald said.

"I love you guys. I hope you all know that, after we die." Said Andrew, when suddenly a mysterious figure jumped onto the robot and poured a bucket of water on it, causing it to malfunction on its head and let all the Larrians go onto the nearest rooftop. The figure then revealed itself, revealing it to be the Waiter Chef himself.

"Who... Are you?" Larry said.

"I'm Waiter Chef. I'm not supposed to be in this book, but neither is Gloop, so it all kinda balances out y'know? See y'all next book!" Waiter Chef said.

“Very well, we’ve got to defeat Gloop!” Liam says. “Where's Gloop and his army again?”

“How will we get down there!” Arnold says.

“The stairs.” Responds Larry.

All the Larrians walk down 11 flights of the apartment building, until opening the door and entering the streets below, seeing Gloop and his army partying.

“Halt! We are the Larrians. Stop, we are here to stop your criminal activity Gloop McFuzzball.” Larry said.

“Oh no! He used my real name! Seize him!” Gloop shouted to his army, who are now rapidly charging towards the Larrians

The Larrians fight their way through the hordes upon hordes of Larrians, The Larrians punch, kick, and slash their way through the Gloops, until finally making it to the leader of them all, Gloop McFuzzball. Gloop McFuzzball takes out his ultra secret weapon, the Ultra Secret Weapon.

“Ha! What are you going to do about that, you pathetic Larrians, say goodbye!” Gloop says, mocking them.

“Goodbye!” Larry says.

Arnold punches Gloop in the face, then handcuffs Gloop and throws him at the front door of the police station. Gloop shouted in anger about this, as the Larrians walked away.

“You can’t do this!” Shouted Gloop! “I have rights y’know maybe you should respect them!”

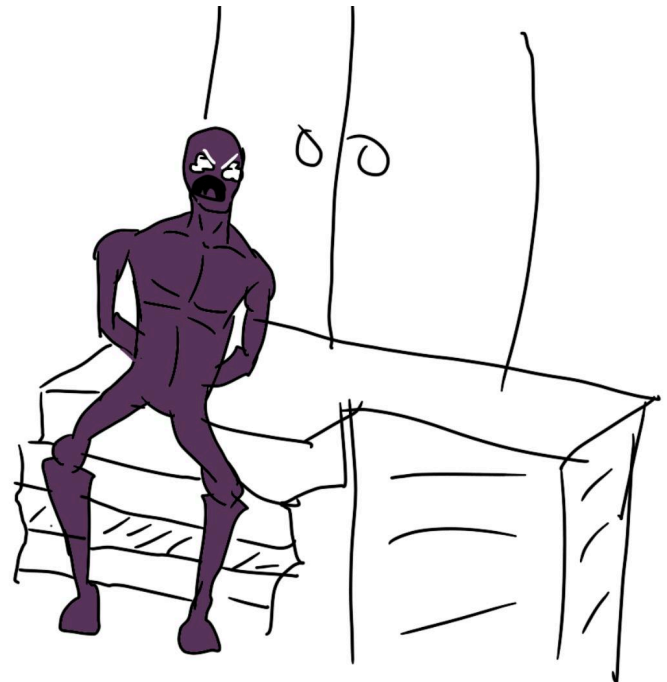

“Huh?” Larry responded. “We never violated any rights. And you’re a criminal y’know!”

“Yeah! Don’t talk to Larry like that.” Arnold said sternly to Gloop.

“Shut up! All of you imbeciles! You haven’t seen the last of me! Wait till I show up in the next book. You won’t be ready for me”

“We’re not in the next book.” All the Larrians said.

“What! You can’t spoil that to the poor reader! Now their hopes are down! They’re appearing in the next book, I swear! I swear!”

All the Larrians walk away into the sunset, and buy a cone of ice cream at the local ice cream shop next to the police station.

“There sure were a lot of fourth wall breaks in this chapter.” Larry says to the Larrians.

“Rather strange, maybe even peculiar!” Gerald says.

“Well enough of that! Let's head home and eat even more ice cream!” Arnold says!

“YAY!!!!” All the Larrians say in unison, walking into Larry HQ, to eat various unhealthy foods.

Chapter 4: The Halloween Guards

Twas the night of Hallow's Eve. The sky was dark as the number three. The Larrians were inside the secret base of Larry.co, preparing for their upcoming trick or treating adventures. The Larrians prepared their costumes, got their halloween bags and headed out the door. Upon exiting they felt the shivering cold night air, as well as some rather peculiar fellows patrolling the Halloween streets, on the back of their uniforms read "Halloween Guards" The Halloween Guards went up to the trick or treating Larrians and said,

"Hey man you're not supposed to be trick or treating past 2:30 PM!" Said the Halloween Guards.

"Seize them!" Said another Halloween Guard. All the Halloween Guards took out a baseball bat and they all started charging at the Larrians. They hit the Larrians baseball and sent them to the infamous "Halloween Jail"

After an hour, the Larrians woke up in their prison cell. The Halloween Guards were patrolling around Cell Block HW, making sure no prisoners were escaping.

“What do we do now! We’ve got to save Halloween from these wicked scoundrels!” Said Gerald.

“I’ve got a plan to break out of here.” Liam said.

“I’m the one who’s supposed to be making plans here! But whatever, let’s listen.” Larry responds.

“So, basically Andrew punches the window open and we go on our merry walk home and defeat the rest of the Halloween guards patrolling the area where everyone is trick or treating” Liam said.

“Yeah!” Andrew says, punching the window open. However, the halloween guards hear it and start chasing the Larrians, they all jump from the window, onto the cliffside, the Halloween Guards jump from the window, but Liam quickly throws a banana to the cliffs, causing the Halloween guards to fall into the water, the Larrians quickly find a boat, and use it to drive back to Bradenton.

“They’re getting away!” The Halloween Guards shout. “Prepare the boats, chase them down!”

“Go, go, speed the boats up, can’t let them get close to us!” Larry shouts to the other Larrians.

The boat sped up, quickly zooming across the ocean, finally making its way back to the city of Bradenton, with water splashing behind them. Larry and the Larrians all got off the boat onto the shore, placed it to a different area so the Halloween guards couldn’t follow their tracks, then they got onto the streets, and they all jumped behind a telephone pole.

“Here’s the plan!” Larry whispered. “We hide in various places, then from our hiding places, we throw candy, they will get distracted by this and try to pick it up, then we ambush them all, we ask them politely where their leader is and then we have super cool and epic fight and stuff.”

“Yeah!” The Larrians shouted in agreement. “Let’s do this!” Gerald says.

Suddenly, a Halloween Guard walks up to the Larrians. “Excuse me guys, you’re not supposed to be trick or treating this late. Nice prisoner costumes though.” The Halloween Guard pauses. “Wait a second. You’re all escaped prisoners!” The Halloween Guard shouts, alerting all the other Halloween guards. “Fire at will!”

“See, this is why you don’t make long plans that last the rest of the story.” Liam says.

“Hold up guys. I got this.” Says Andrew.

“Stop fighting y’all.” Andrew says sternly to the Halloween Guard. “Why do you all want to ruin Halloween in the first place?”

“Umm... We were bored.” A Halloween Guard said.

“I had a bad experience with Halloween. So I wanted to make sure everyone else also had that same experience as mine.” Another Halloween Guard said.

“I forgot.” Another Halloween Guard said.

“Now are any of these good reasons to ruin Halloween?” Andrew shouted. “Most of you were bored! Why don’t you go trick or treating? Go to a Halloween party or something! You don’t have to ruin it for anyone else!” Andrew continued. “And for the person that had a bad experience with Halloween, so what! You can make Halloween better for everyone else!”

“Oh yeah. He has a point.” The Halloween guards said.

“Now where is your leader? Mister Halloween Guard? Where is he?” Larry asked the Halloween Guards.

“He's up in that big tower right there. The one with the pumpkin on it. You can't miss it.” Said a Halloween Guard.

“Thanks.” Larry responds. “Also tell all your friends to stop being Halloween Guards, that would be super cool.”

“Gotcha pal.” A Halloween Guard responds.

The Larrians storm into the tower, and they see all the Halloween Guards leaving, making it super easy to climb up to the top, where the Leader of the Halloween Guards was sitting in a throne, made of Halloween candy, wrapped.

“So you five are the people who are making all my Halloween Guards leave.”

The Halloween Leader said, with a threatening booming voice. “Surrender now. Or else I will destroy Halloween.”

“What?” Larry says, confused. “How do you even do that?”

“Like I would tell you my evil plan!” The Halloween Leader said, as he stepped out of the shadows, revealing himself.

“AHHH!” The Larrians screamed upon seeing the frightening face of the Halloween Leader.

“I am the Halloween Leader! Halloween is mine to control! Now surrender, or else I will destroy you and Halloween! Mwah haw haw haw!” The Halloween Leader cackled.

Andrew charged up to the Halloween Leader, punched him in the face, grabbed his leg, then threw him out the window of the tower, causing him to fall to his death, marking the end of the Halloween Guards (for now)

The Larrians walked away, and went down all of the flights of stairs of the Halloween Tower.

“Wow, that was easier than I thought it would be!” Larry said.

“That guy was all bark, no bite.” Andrew said.

“Isn’t it bad to kill people and stuff?” Arnold says.

“Yeah, but he was like the ringleader of ruining Halloween for everyone. He deserved it.” Larry says to Arnold.

“That’s fair.” Liam responds.

The Larrians exited the Halloween Guard tower and continued trick or treating with the rest of the former Halloween Guards.

Chapter 5: LARPPY.

Larry was sitting in his living room, eating popcorn in front of the TV. He grabbed his remote, turned on the TV, and flipped it to Channel -1, as usual.

“Good morning Bradenton!” Says the news reporter on the TV. “We have finally found the Mad Granola Bar Wrecker!”

“Yay! I’m so glad they found that menace!” Larry says.

“Here we have collected an image of Larppy, committing the crime of destroying granola bars. We will show it now.”

“Somebody has got to stop this menace!” Said the news reporter. “To save our granola bars!”

“This looks like a job for me!” Larry Jingleberry says, rushing into his bedroom, putting on his costume, then jumping out the window into his front yard. He then runs up to a random person walking on the sidewalk. “Hey y’know where Larppy is?” Larry says to the person walking by.

“Uhh... Heard an explosion down there.” Says the random passerby, pointing down the street. “That's probably Larppy.”

“Thank you kind sir!” Larry says, as he runs down the street where the man was pointing to, Larry then looks up to see a nearby helicopter with Larppy calmly sitting in the passenger seat.

“Wait!” Larppy shouts to the helicopter driver. “That's my arch enemy, Larry Jogman! Or more well known as Larry Jingleberry. Shoot him down!”

The helicopter points towards Larry and fires several bullets at Larry which he dodges out of the way, taking cover behind a car. Larppy jumps down onto the road Jingleberry Road, and takes a sword. Larry exits his cover.

“I’m gonna kill you Larry!” Larppy says, with anger in his nose.

“Hey man stop being such a meanie!” Larry says to Larppy, handing him a snickers bar. “Use this to calm down.”

Larppy throws the snickers bar at Larry “I won’t calm down until you're dead, Larry!” Larppy says, while charging at Larry, with his sword.

“Oh no!” Larry says, then he then quickly jumps out of the way, making Larppy bump into a wall and fall onto the ground, landing flat onto his face..

“Ouchie!” Larppy says. “Play fair man!” Larppy says while pulling out a gun. “Or I’ll cheat too.” Larppy begins to open fire on Larry, wounding him, knocking him to the ground, while he covers his wound. Larppy walks towards Larry and kicks him in his stomach.

“Oof!” Larry shouts, writhing in pain, as Larppy keeps kicking him over and over again.

“You’ve wasted your time Larry.” Larppy says. “Now, it is time for world domination! You will never defeat me.” Larppy said. Then, he climbed into his helicopter and flew away.

Larry pulled out a walkie talkie, tuned the frequency to the Larrians frequency, and sent out a broadcast. “All Larrians!” Larry said in his broadcast. “I need backup... To defeat Larppy.”

All the Larrians stopped what they were doing, and run to aid Larry in defeating the menace Larppy Berries from him.

Liam woke up from his bed, jumped from the window to the location of the broadcast.

Andrew was jogging, when he heard the broadcast, suddenly turning around and rapidly sprinting to the location of the broadcast. The Larrians managed to make it to where Larry Jingleberry was beaten, healed his wounds with some bandages and helped him back up.

“Thanks... guys...” Larry Jingleberry said, injured.

“Anything for you!” Gerald shouted, very enthusiastically.

“Where’d Larppy go?” Liam said to Larry.

“No clue...” Larry said. “But we can find a way to get to him.” Larry said. “Liam go check if he left anything behind when running away.”

Liam salutes to Larry. “On it!” Liam says while pulling out a magnifying glass from his pocket, and looks through it, pointing it at the ground. “Hm`mmm... It seems Larppy left behind a trail of invisible ink!”

“Why?” Larry asked.

“I’m not quite sure myself.” Responded Liam. “But it is awfully convenient! Follow the trail!”

Eventually, they found Larppy’s evil lair of fun after following the invisible ink trail for quite some time. After they found Larppy’s Lair, they knocked on the door and a Larppian let them all in. They quickly kicked him, sending him to the ground. Once they entered the entrance field, they looked around for a second.

“Hmm... I wonder where Larppy is?” Gerald says, rather confused.

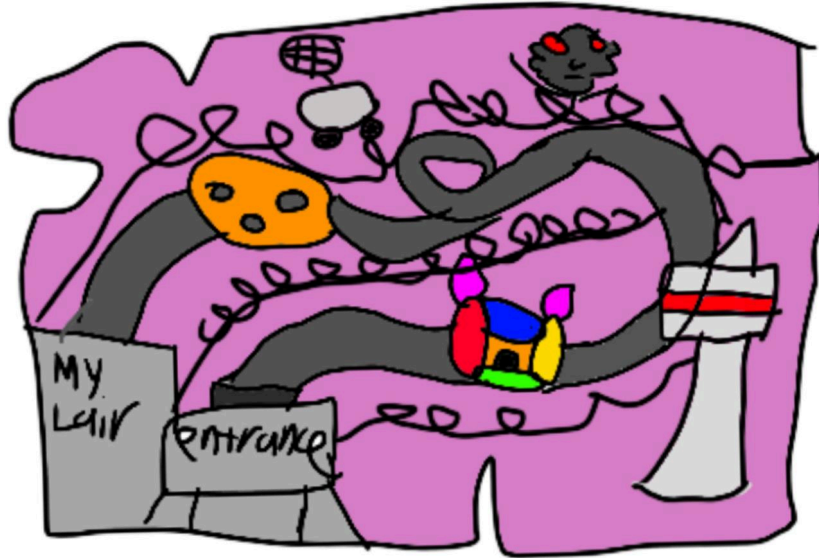

“Check the map.” Larry said to Gerald.

“Huh? What map?” Liam says, confused.

“Y’know, the one they gave us at the front entrance.” Larry says, pulling the map out from his pocket and showing it to the Larrians, the all crowd around behind Larry to get a good look at the map.

“Hmm... I think I got this.” Andrew says. “So basically that’s like a bouncy castle and stuff. Probably evil.” All the other Larrians and Larry nod. “Then there’s like a big evil robot, a little jump on platforms in lava and then we make it into Larppy’s evil lair.”

“Thank you Andrew.” Larry says. “We really didn’t need a map for this though, pretty clear, can’t get lost here.”

“Let’s go! Let’s go!” Gerald said, while jumping up and down.

“Yeah. We’re wasting time.” Liam said to the other Larrians.

Eventually after a long trail filled with various encounters and ambushes from Larppians, they finally made it to Larppy’s evil bouncy castle.

Suddenly as they approached the entrance to the bouncy castle, the speaker made a noise “Well well well!” Larppy said over the announcement system. “If it isn’t the Larrians, my bff’s!” He continued. “I’m so glad you could come to my birthday party, did I mention it’s my birthday? Eh, probably not but now I did! The first game is the infamous bouncy castle, jump up and down while I try to shoot you to death. After a few minutes I let you out.” Larppy continued. “NOW GET IN!” He shouted.

The bars to the bouncy castle opened wide, and a spring pushed the Larrians into the bouncy castle and the gate closed shut at the exact moment the Larrians entered. A turret appeared from each corner of the bouncy house and started opening fire on the Larrians.

The turrets rapidly fired on the Larrians, they jumped out of the way as quick as they could, the lasers shooting through the turrets let out a sound crackling, each laser caused a small explosion, but the bouncy castle remained immune to them (somehow). After a bunch of tense dodges, and bounces Larry and the Larrians managed to make it out in one piece. The gates to the bouncy castle opened and they all quickly ran out of the castle and made it back onto the pathway.

The Larrians kept walking, until suddenly a giant robot shot a missile at them, causing them to get out of the way of the blast radius of the missile.

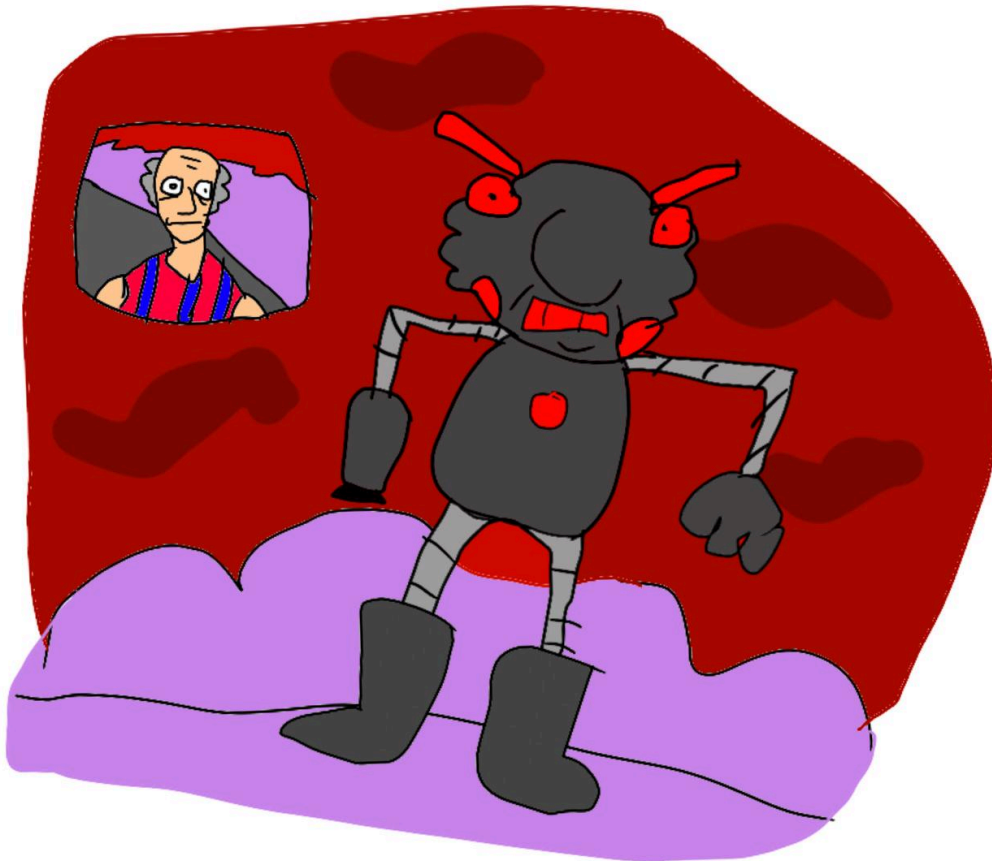

“Sorry guys!” Larppy says over the announcement speaker. “Did I forget to tell you about my robot?”

“No.” All the Larrians said.

“How’d you know?” Larppy said, confused.

“We looked at the map.” Larry said to Larppy.

“Oh okay.” Larppy said. “Well anyways, behold my evil robot of death, Mecha Larppy!”

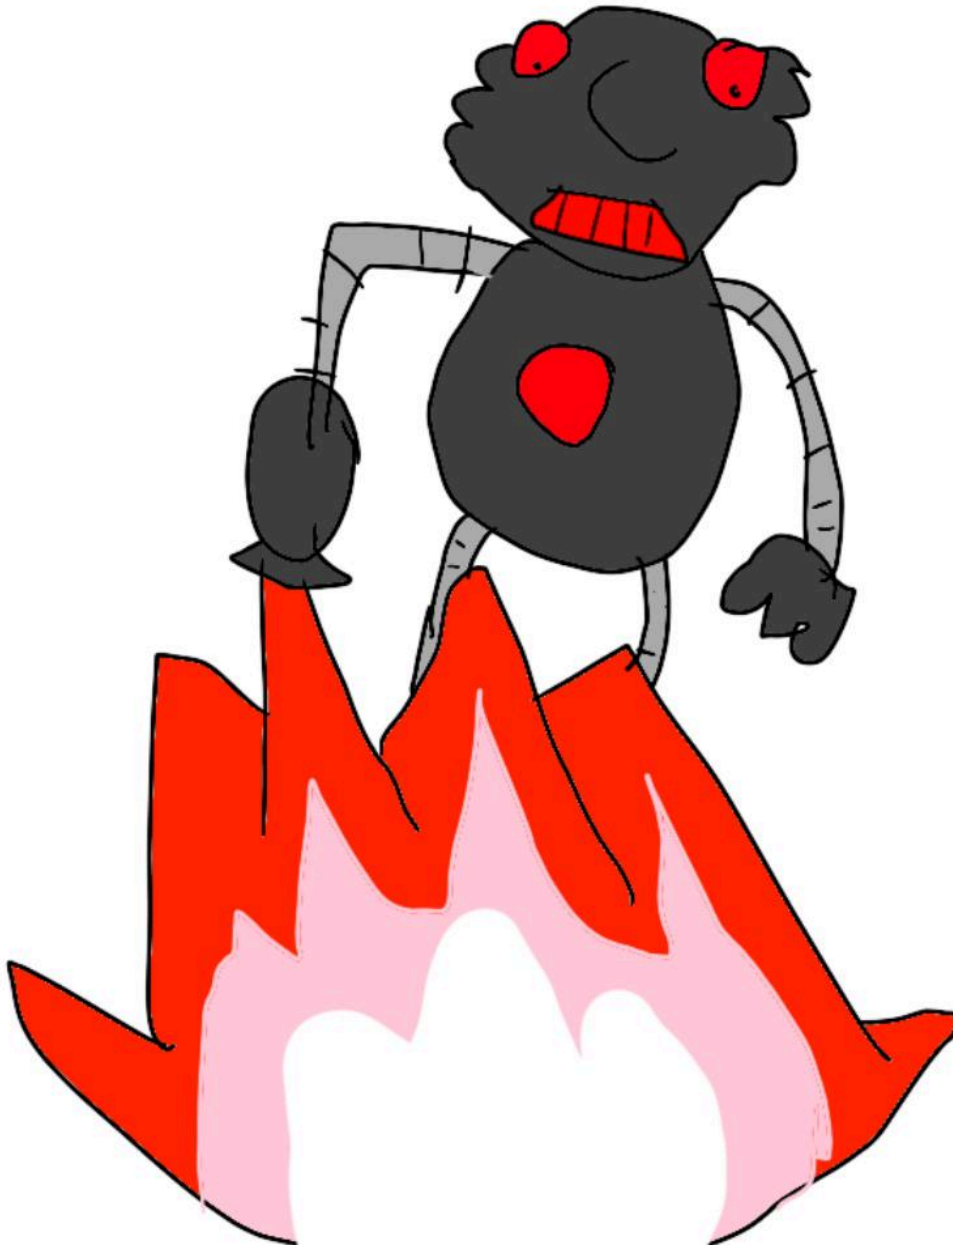

“MUST. DESTROY. LARRIANS.” Mecha Larppy shouted, his voice echoing all across Larppy’s evil lair.

“Guys, run for your lives!” Larry shouted to the other Larrians, as Mecha Larppy stomped, rapidly running forwards towards the Larrians. Each of Mecha Larppy’s steps booming, creating miniature shockwaves on the ground. Mecha Larppy eventually reached the Larrians, held out his giant fist and prepared to crush them, turning them into a crushed thingy.

However, the Larrians managed to jump out of the way just in time onto one of the platforms in the lava pit of doom.

“VERY CLEVER.” Mecha Larppy said. “I DO NOT FALL FOR YOUR FOOLISH TRICKS HOWEVER.” Mecha Larppy pointed his hand missile towards the Larrians, and prepared to fire at them.

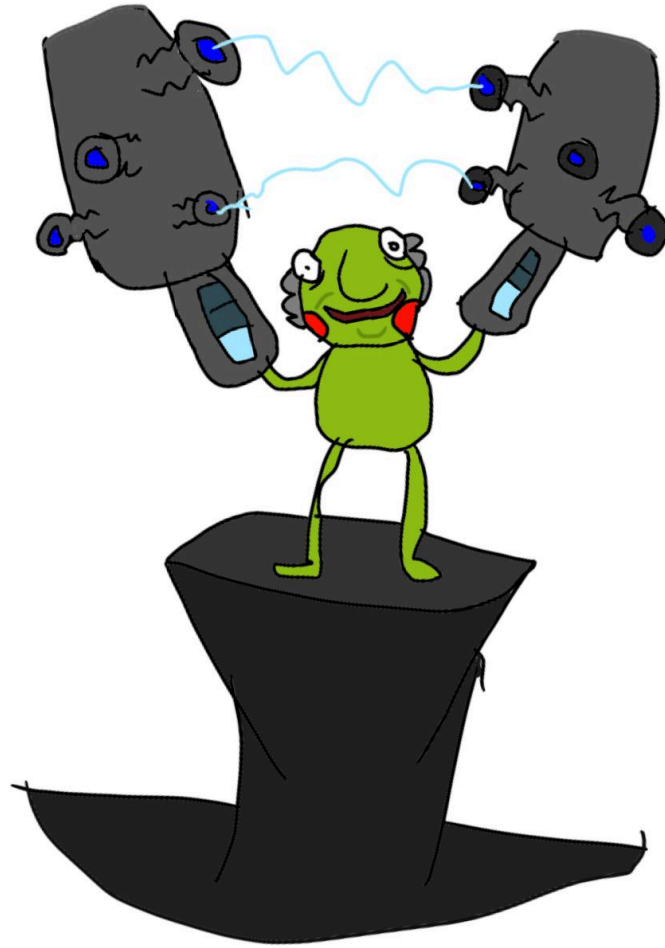

The Larrians jumped onto another platform, and Larry jumped back onto the pathway, as mecha Larry tried to crush Larry, the Gerald pulled out a random Larrian plushie at mecha Larry's feet causing Mecha Larry to shoot a missile at the plushie, making himself into smithereens.

The explosion caused a large quantity of scrap metal to be hurled at the Larrians, causing them to get behind a truck to avoid getting decapitated.

The Larrians then ran to Larppy's evil base at the end, however they were not too focused on where they were going and they all knocked into the door, causing them to trip and fall. Fortunately for them, it caused the door to fall right into the building, letting them enter Larppy's base.

“Sorry Larrians!” Larppy shouted. “You’re too late, in approximately three and a half minutes, I will launch a missile strike on every ingredient of granola bars, every factory making granola bars, and every store selling granola bars!”

“You can’t do that!” Larry shouted to Larppy. “You’ll destroy the whole world, it’s not worth it!”

“You don’t understand.” Larppy shouted back, as his device shot a volt of electricity right towards Larry Jingleberry, however the Larrians quickly got him out of the way before they got zapped with 500 volts of electricity.

Larry took out a boomerang from his pocket, while Arnold stealthily opened the generator panel, and Larry threw the boomerang at it, breaking part of the GRANOLA BAR WRECKER 2000.

“Do you think you’re smart!?” Larppy shouted, firing a beam of electricity at Arnold, but Andrew quickly jumped and caught him before he got killed.

Larry ran in front of a generator and did a super duper annoying dance in front of it, Larppy shot his laser at it in range, to make the dance stop and kill Larppy of course, but just as he shot the laser Larry ducked under the electricity, overloading the generators circuit board causing it to explode.

“Idiots!” Larppy shouted, firing a large quantity of electric shock waves electrifying the ground, while activating a force field on the first generator. “Lets see you destroy that one you BASTARDS!”

At this moment, Larry got an idea. He needed to find a way to overload the energy of the machine to disable the force fields. Larry ran as fast as he could, trying to get Larppy to fire a giant shockwave at the ground, and after a lot of missed shockwaves getting shot at Larry, Larppy unleashed a ginormous shockwave at the ground, disabling the forcefield. As the force fields were disabled Andrew tore the generator off the ground and threw it at Larppy. The generator hit Larppy, sending him off the machine and Larry grabbed Larppy and handcuffed him to a wire connected to one of the broken generators.

“I’ll kill you all!” Larppy shouted. “This isn’t the end, I’ll be back someday, and you won’t be ready.”

Chapter 6: Mary and Friends

Meanwhile, in a cold dark jail cell... Mary Jingles sits, drawing thousands upon thousands of plans to defeat Larry Jingleberry, but she keeps throwing them out, knowing none of them could work.

"You alright Mary?" said Mister Purse Snatcher.

"I'M FINE!" Mary angrily shouted towards Mister Purse Snatcher. "That darn bastard Larry, I want revenge! He had to ruin everything for all of us!"

"I know right!" Gloop responded. "He has defeated so many of us do-badders that there's a whole section just for people who got defeated by Larry."

Mary then had an idea. "Wait a second." Mary said, then started cackling. "What if we team up to kill Larry once and for all!"

"That's genius Mary!" said Gary, as he suddenly starts clapping for Mary.

"Shut up." Mary calmly said to Gary.

"Alright so we're gonna break out, then we kill Larry, then we will rule the world!" Gloop says, laughing maniacally, as he turns his hand into a hammer and breaks the wall open.

“You could do that the whole time?” Mary says.

“Yeah.” Gloop responds.

“Why didn’t you do that before?” Mary said, passive aggressively towards Gloop, striking him with an annoyed look.

“Ya never asked.” Gloop said with a shrug.

“That’s fair.” Gary says. “Hey- we should find a place to make an evil lair.”

“There’s a cave near the Larrians base, we could use it.” Gloop says.

“Good idea!” Mary says, as they all start walking to the parking lot, then steal one of the cop cars and then they all drive to that cave, with Gloop giving them directions. Eventually, they make it to the cave, and they all get out of the car.

“Ya’ sure this is safe?” Gary says to Gloop, as they walk into the cave.

“Trust me!” Gloop says. “I basically live here at this point. Because I do live here.” Gloop continued. “I have some extra beds for you guys.” Gloop says, as he pulls out two beds from his mouth and places them in his bedroom.

“I think I’ll sleep on the floor.” Mary, Gary, and Mister Purse Snatcher all say.

“More room for me then.” Gloop says.

MEANWHILE AT THE LARRIANS SECRET BASE...

The Larrians were hanging out at their secret base playing a heated game of monopoly, when suddenly Larry took a quick glance towards the window, and saw something out the window, charging towards them.

“What's that?” Larry said about the thing charging out the window.

Gerald looked at the window. “It's Santa Claus!” Gerald said excitedly.

However, it was not Santa Claus.

Mary and the Marrians crashed through the building and took out their guns, and rather rudely asked the Larrians for their money. Thus, forcing all of the Larrians to hand over their money to the evil Marrians.

“Ha! We're rich.” Mary said, in achievement. “Now we get to kill them!” She cackled.

“WHAT!?!” The Larrians shouted in unison, rather surprised.

“Oops! Forgot to tell ya” Mary said, mockingly. “Doesn’t matter though, it’ll all be over for you in three...” Mary continued, as Gary pulled out his super laser weapon, aimed it at the Larrians and started charging it up. “Two...” Mary kept counting.

Andrew quickly grabbed all the Larrians and jumped out the window onto the grass outside of the house, as the super laser weapon fired, tearing apart half of the house.

“WHAT!” Mary shouted filled with anger. “That was our only shot! I’ll kill those bastards!” Mary continued, then she jumped from the window, rolled up her sleeves and prepared to tear apart every single Larrian with her fists.

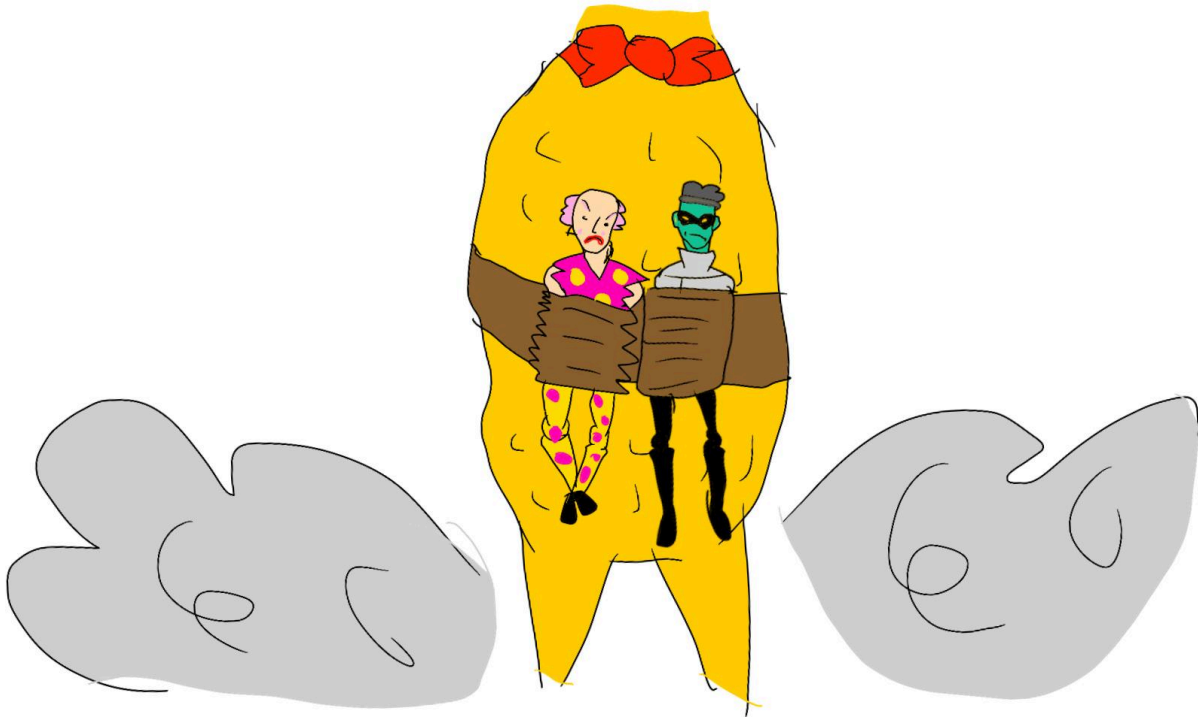

Mary charged at Liam kicking him three times in the stomach, however Liam quickly rolled out of the way making Mary miss causing Andrew to slap Larry into a nearby tree, but Mary jumped off the tree onto Larry and started rapidly punching his head and kicking him into the ground. Suddenly, Gerald turned into his lizard form, and started running towards Mary, with his long reptile-esque tongue he tagged Mary, freezing her, until Gary jumped from the window and untagged Mary.

Gary pulled out a rocket launcher from his pocket and started rapidly firing at the Larrians, with them only barely dodging out of the way without getting exploded.

“Why won’t you just stand still and die!” Gary said angrily.

As Gary was distracted Gerald snuck up on him and threw him at Mary, knocking them both to the ground. Gerald then took out his trusty pair of handcuffs and arrested Gary and Mary and sent them to space on a giant rubber chicken rocket.

Soon, Liam quickly ran to the giant rubber chicken, flipped a switch on the back, sending Gary and Mary straight to the PRISON PLANET.

Gloop was furious at this, and was sent into a blind rage. “I’LL KILL YOU!” Gloop shouted to the Larrians, jumping from the balcony straight onto Larry, and tackled him and punched him several times in the face and started strangling him.

Mister Purse snatcher started getting scared of Gloop and snuck out, and no one even noticed he had gone at all.

All the other Larrians saw this as an opportunity to sneak up and defeat Gloop, but he quickly sent out his goop, restraining them. Gloop finally knocked out Larry Jingleberry.

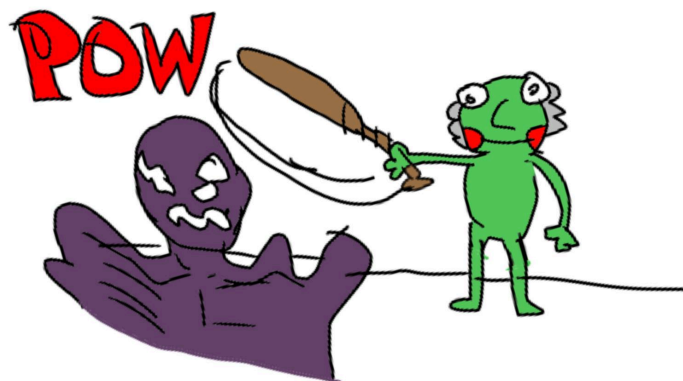

“NO!!” Gerald shouted in fear.

The Larrians watched in fear as Gloop's arm turned into a blade, and he stabbed Larry in the heart, killing him.

“Wow!” Gloop said with achievement. “That was easy.” Gloop cackled “Now to finish you guys off!” Gloop said, as he slowly started walking towards the Larrians, with his hand ready for more stabbings, when suddenly he was interrupted.

“I’m afraid your work is done here Gloop.” A mysterious figure said to Gloop from behind. Gloop turned around to see who it was, and it was LARPPY... And Larppy hit Gloop with a baseball bat, knocking him to the ground.

Larppy grabbed Larry's body and started dragging it onto his helicopter, and flew it away.

Eventually, the Larrians escaped Gloops goo, and upon breaking it flew away into the distance.

"What happened to Larry?" Andrew said, a bit confused about what happened.

"He either died or got captured by Larppy." Liam said. "Neither are a good option though. But I'd prefer for Larry to be alive."

"I know." Gerald said. "But we can't let Larppy use Larry or his corpse for his evil plans. We've got to stop him!" Gerald said, confidently.

"YEAH!" All the other Larrians shouted in unison.

CHAPTER 7: THE REVENGE OF LARPPY

b

Larppy sat at his lab, with Larry's corpse in a bodybag. He opened up the body bag and took out a strand of Larry's hair and put it in his clown maker 2000. Larppy's test tube began bubbling when suddenly after waiting for an hour, Larppy saw a baby Larry emerge from the test tube. Larppy knew that this wouldn't do, so he took out an age amplifier and fired it at baby Larry.

"That'll serve quite well as a backup." Larppy muttered, as he fired sleeping gas at the Larry clone. Larry then made a fake replica of Larry's real dead body, and created a page online for people to buy Larry's dead body. "A lot of people sure want Larry as a trophy. This'll get me a lot of money." Larppy cackled.

MEANWHILE

The Larrians are busy on their mission of finding Larry, they're putting missing posters everywhere, looking for trails of evidence that would lead them to Larry, but they continue to fail to find even a trace.

"Not a single call yet..." Gerald said. "Guess he must be gone for good."
"Wait a second..." Liam said. He had an idea. "Remember Larry gave himself a tracker on his dress?"

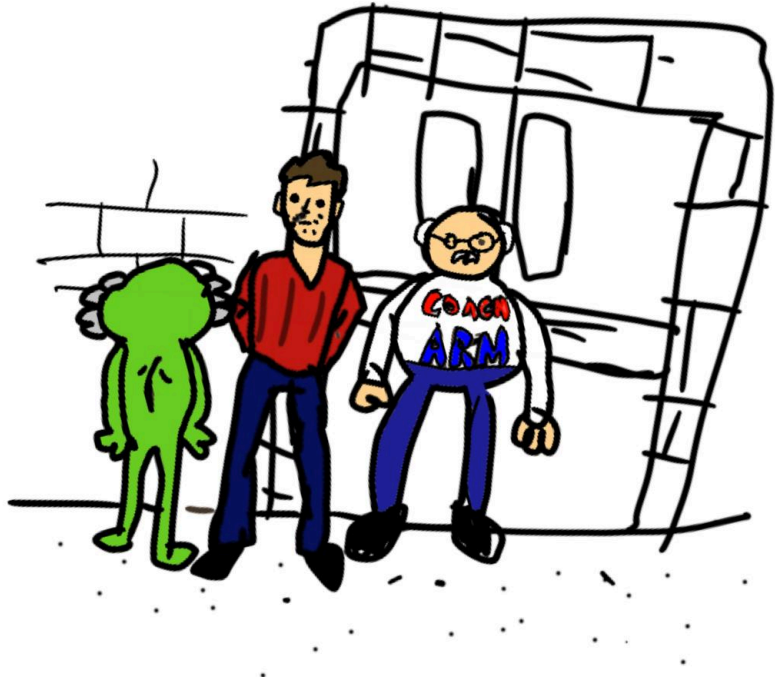

"Yeah..?"

"Let's check that!" Both Gerald and Liam said in unison, as they both pulled out the Larry tracker, however on the map they saw three red dots, with two of them staying still and one currently in motion.

"That's weird..." Gerald said. "Why are there three of them?"

"The one in motion must be the one he's using, let's follow that."

The Larrians followed the tracker until they saw Larppy's truck in motion, they quickly hid behind a bush and took out binoculars and saw the truck, as it parked in front of a nearby Middle School. Larppy got out of the truck and saw two teachers standing in front of the entrance.

"Arm. Stekler. I've been waiting for you two." Larppy said to the teachers. "You got Larry's body?" said Master Stekler, the guy in the red sweater.

"Yep." Responded Larppy. "Got it right in the truck. I'll get it for you." Larppy said, as he walked to the truck, carrying the body bag.

"Pleasure doing business with you!" Coach Arm cackled, who was the guy wearing the "Coach Arm" shirt. "We'll send it straight to Australia!"

Suddenly, the Larrians jumped in, and punched Larppy in the face.

"Halt!" Said Gerald, aiming a freezing gun towards Larppy. "We are the Larrians. Stand down, and let Larry go."

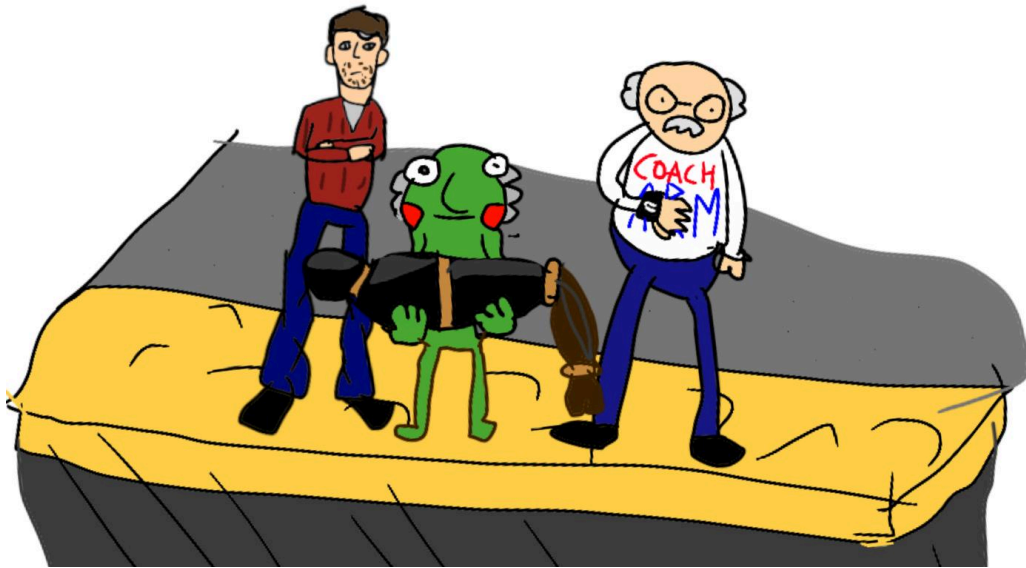

Larppy then fired a smoke gun at the Larrians and Coach Arm and Larppy ran away with the body.

"DAMN IT!" Liam shouted, kicking a trash can. "They got away!"

"We can still follow them, don't give up!" Andrew said to Liam. "I can see them in the distance!" Andrew said, as he pulled out binoculars, pointing them to the direction Larppy went. “I see him heading to the train station!” Andrew said. “Go!” He shouted to all of the Larrians.

Eventually after they all ran as fast as they could they saw Larppy and the two teachers waiting at the train tracks.

“No more running away!” Gerald said to Larppy.

“No. I’m very sure you’re wrong.” Responded Larppy, as he threw the body at Gerald. “Y’know, I’m feeling generous! You get to keep this body. The Christmas Spirit really redeemed me” Larppy then took out a detonator from his pocket and the body exploded. “Too bad it’s a decoy!” Larppy laughed at Gerald as the Larrians got knocked back and they all boarded the train.

“How do they keep getting away?” Andrew says.

“They’re criminals, it’s a very common skill among them.” Responded Liam.

Gerald quickly grabbed all the Larrians then grappled onto the train. “Stop talking, we don’t have time!”

They then got on top of the train and viewed through the top windows which part Larppy was in, and Andrew jumped down and tackled Larppy and grabbed his neck.

“WHERE LARRY'S REAL BODY!” Andrew shouted, shaking Larppy while he held him to the train door.

“Calm down Andrew!” Gerald told Andrew. “You’re not like this!”

“Shut up!” Andrew responded. “Now Larppy, tell me!” He said to Larppy.

“It's in the tunnel!” Larppy responded, gasping for air. “Dig a hole and you’ll find it!” Larppy said, as he got let go and thrown into a train car by Andrew.

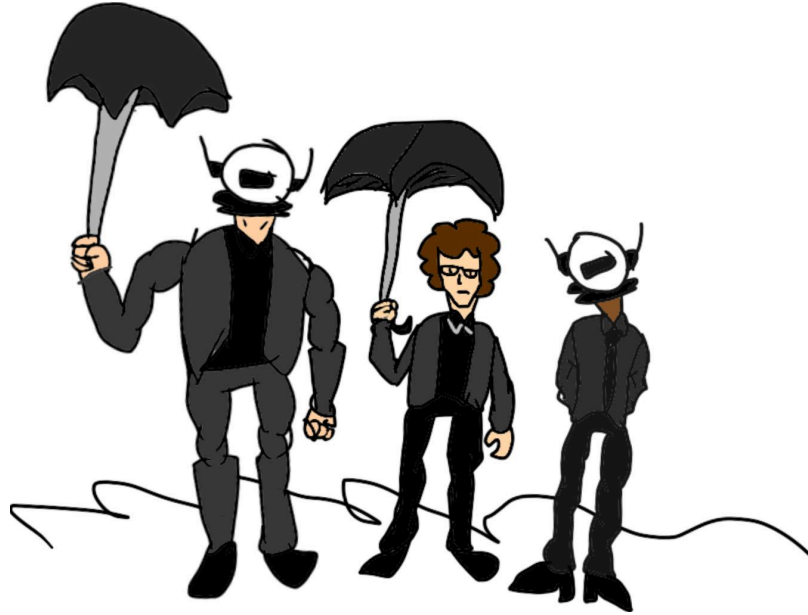

The Larrians exited the train and headed to the tunnel.

“He better not be lying.” Liam says.

The Larrians arrive at the tunnel and dig a hole, eventually seeing Larry’s real corpse. They checked the fingerprints to prove it was real, and it was.

“He didn’t.” Gerald said to Liam. “We’ve got to have a funeral for Larry.” Gerald said, sadly. “He deserves this.” Continued Gerald.

The Larrians all went into a cemetery and dug a grave for Larry and put him in the casket. They then carved Larry’s name into a rock and placed it next to the casket, and then they buried the coffin with dirt, and after Larry’s grave was fully set up they hosted the funeral.

Many people came to the funeral, honoring the hero Larry. After a long speech about Larry's history and legacy given by Gerald, everyone else except for the Larrians cleared out, leaving the Larrians as the only one at the funeral. They all left their flowers at Larry's grave and walked away.

"I'll miss Larry." Gerald said, somberly. "We've got to arrest Larppy. It's what Larry would have wanted." Continued Gerald. All the other Larrians nodded in agreement and they went back home to change back into their normal uniforms, then they walked all the way back to the train station, waiting for Larppy to return to get another decoy Larry corpse. They saw Larppy exit the train, and they quickly got behind cover so Larppy couldn't see them.

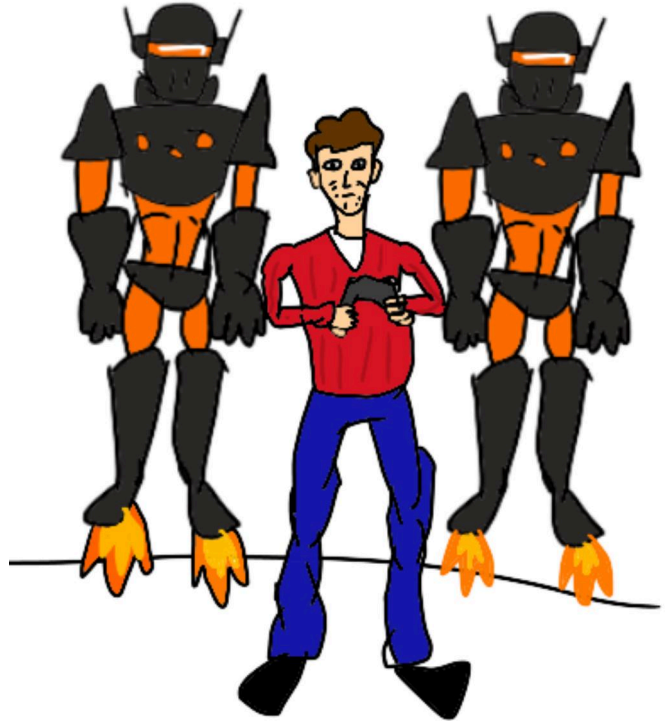

“Such a shame I had to waste a decoy like that...” Larppy muttered angrily, while he walked out of the train station.

“We've got more.” Master Stekler said. “We should focus on killing the Larrians first however.” He said, as he pressed a few buttons on his controller and two robots flew behind him. “They’ll be helpful for capturing the Larrians.”

“So I can kill them!” Coach Arm shouted in excitement.

“Robots, activate heat seeking features.” Master Stekler commanded the robots. “Search for Gerald, Andrew, and Liam of the Larrians.”

“YES MASTER.” The robots said, as they started searching for the Larrians, when they found three heat signatures hiding behind cover, the robots destroyed the wall, revealing the Larrians. The robots shot out a wire at one of the Larrians but they quickly started running away from the robots while Gerald threw boomerangs at them to hold them off.

““Wait a second,” Liam said. “Why don’t we go lure the robots into a pool, swim underwater, and then get the robots to pounce onto us and short circuit.””

“Genius!” Gerald said, as all of the Larrians jumped into the local pool. “These suits are waterproof right?”

“No!” Liam and Andrew said in unison.

The robots then chased the Larrians into the local pool and started firing missiles at them, but the Larrians dodged out of the way just in time. Eventually the robots pounced onto the Larrians, and the Larrians quickly climbed out of the pool just as they pounced, electrifying the water and breaking both of the robots.

Master Stekler was viewing this whole scene from his controller, and became furious and put on his jetpack with Coach Arm alongside him and they arrived at the local pool. “You’ll pay for destroying my work!” shouted Master Stekler, as he charged at Gerald.

Gerald jumped out of the way as Master Steckler ran at him, with Master Steckler grabbing Liam instead. Gerald quickly punched Master Steckler in the face before he tried to drown Liam, knocking Master Steckler to the ground.

Coach Arm immediately started running away, soon tripping on a stick and falling onto the road. Andrew grabbed both Coach Arm and Master Steckler by their sweaters as Gerald handcuffed them.

“We’ve got to get Larppy now.” Gerald said to the Larrians.

The Larrians all look up, and see Larppy in an open helicopter door, carrying a rocket launcher.

“Hiya Larrians!” Larppy said. “Stand down now, or else I’ll blow you to pieces!” Larppy said, with his rocket launcher aimed straight at the Larrians.

“I think not.” Liam said, as he grappled up onto the helicopter, and threw Larppy’s rocket launcher onto the ground, and threw him onto the ground, with Andrew catching him and kicking him onto the ground.

“Damn it!” Larppy shouted. “I’ll kill you all!”

“I’m afraid you won’t be able to do that.” Gerald said to Larppy. “It’ll be hard to do that when you’re dead.”

“What!” Larppy and the Larrians all said in unison. The Larrians stared at Gerald in shock, as he dragged Larppy to the train tracks. “Look man you don’t have to do this, I-I’m sorry!” Larppy said, filled with fear.

“Hm.” Gerald said as he kept dragging Larry to the train tracks. “Trains coming in around... thirty seconds.” Gerald said calmly. He then threw Larppy onto the train tracks, and Larppy looked up to see the sight of a train rushing towards him at an alarming speed. The lights of the train blinded him, and he stood there cowering, hoping to minimize the pain.

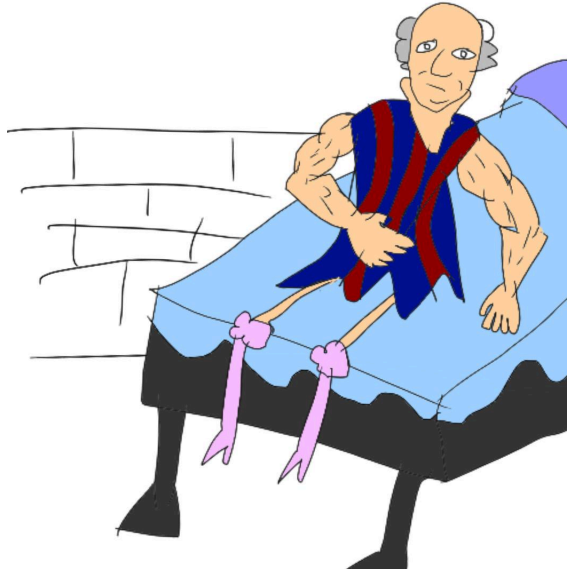

The train rushed towards Larppy, at a fast pace, crushing Larry under the enormous weight of the train, effectively killing him for good.

CHAPTER 8: Brain Switch

Larry woke up to find himself laying in a hospital bed, surprisingly not dead, even after getting stabbed in a fatal area. He looked up, to see he was in a very dirty lab. After a bit of waiting, he saw Gloop walk into the room, wearing a nurse outfit (for some reason)

“Gloop...?” Larry said, confused. “What are you doing?” He questioned.

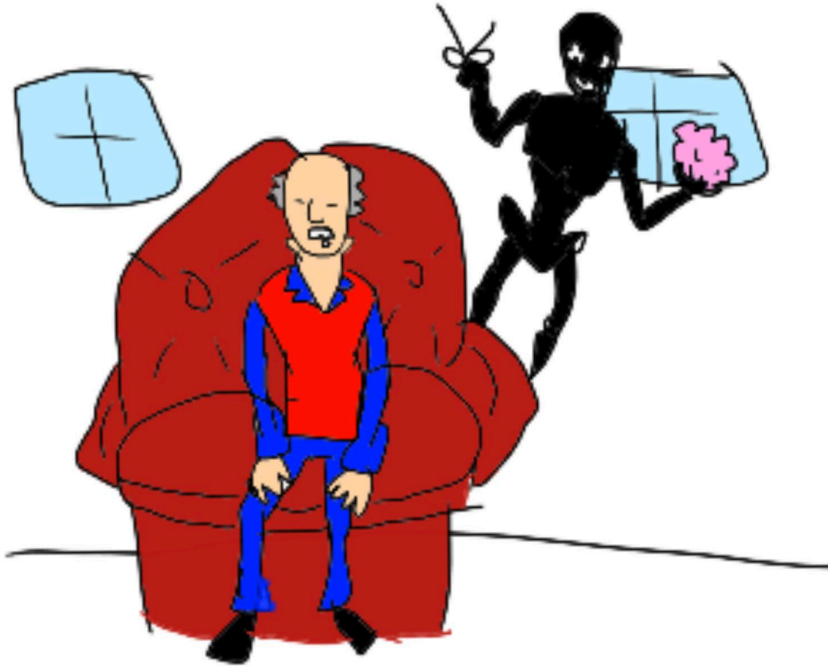

“How did you see right through my disguise!” Shouted Gloop. “I spent a week designing this outfit!”

“Makes me wonder why I even saved you at all.” Gloop muttered, frustrated, with his arms crossed.

“Wait what?” Larry said, confused.

“Yes, I saved you.” Gloop responded to Larry. “Here's how.”

“So basically, Mary told me your secret about your Granola bar destroying affairs and I was super duper interested.” Gloop told Larry.

“What?” Larry said, shocked. “You weren’t supposed to know that!”

“Mary trusted me!” Gloop responded.

“Don’t worry she didn’t tell anyone, except for me.” Gloop continued. “So anyways I broke into your house while you were sleeping and switched your brain with a random frog that looked like you.”

“Why did you do that!” Shouted Larry. “I mean it was fun being Larppy but... Why?”

“I wanted to see how cool of a villain you are, and you exceeded my expectations. I even made T-Shirts!” Gloop said excitedly, while he took out a T-Shirt from the hospital closet, and showed it to Larry, who looked at it very annoyed. “If you don’t like it I could throw it away...” Gloop said, with a frown on his face as he looked away.

Larry raised his hand.

“Yes Larry,” said Gloop. “What is it this time?”

“Can I go home?” Responded Larry.

“Sure.” Gloop said. “But wouldn’t it be fun if we did villainous stuff together.”

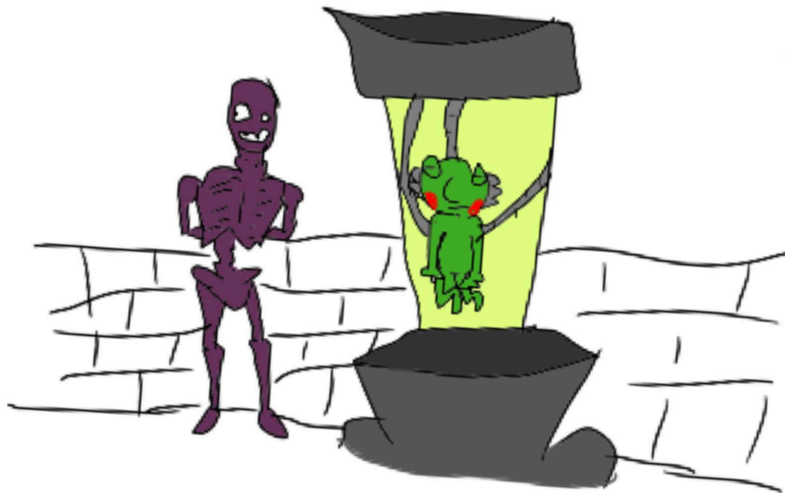

“I guess.” Responded Larry. “What are we doing?”

“A classic!” Gloop said. “A bank robbery, for some easy money!” Gloop said, as he rubbed his hands together and struck a villainous pose.

“Wait a second, where's Larppy?” Responded Larry.

“I’ve been waiting for you to ask that!” Gloop shouted, as he walked towards something covered with a blanket, as he pulled the blanket off, revealing Larppy, inside a test tube. “I didn’t want to let him out yet because he's too much of a do-gooder.” Gloop said in air quotes.

Larry and Gloop walked, and walked the downtown streets of Bradenton, looking all around them. The air was cold, and rushing towards them, as they were shivering. The concrete grounds were covered by concrete grounds. After eventually an hour of walking they saw a big bank looming over them. Gloop pulled out a gun from his back and handed an extra one to Larry, and they walked towards the steps of the bank.

They stormed into the bank, kicking the door open. Larry and Gloop stood back to back, pointing their guns at the poor bank goers, who fear going into banks because there's always some supervillain trying to rob them. Eventually, after Larry and Gloop keep threatening the people they go up to the desk.

“Excuse me sir,” Larry said. “May I have your money?” He asked, aiming his gun right at the bank guy’s forehead.

“Okay okay!” The bank dude shouted, scared as he opened the bank vault and gets down on the ground.

Suddenly, Larrry heard a crashing noise from the ceiling, he looked up and saw Flaffy land onto the ground of the bank. “Stop it guys.” He said to Gloop and Larry.

Gloop jumped out the window of the bank as fast as possible, leaving Larry with Flaffy.

“Well well well, if it isn’t Flaffy Fluffington Williams the Second...” Larry said.

“Well well well, if it isn’t Larry “Jingleberry” Jogman...” Flaffy said.

They danced around each other while growling after each other for quite some time until Flaffy handcuffs Larry while he was too distracted doing that.

“Aw shucks...” Larry groaned as he walked into the bank's vault and still grabbed the money whilst being handcuffed.

“Wait a second!” Flaffy says, surprised. But too bad for Flaffy, as Larry has already gotten away.

Larry arrived at Gloop’s lair, and he took out his handcuff key and unlocked it for Larry, and then he threw it into the garbage. Suddenly, the Waiter Chef burst through the window of Gloop’s lair and punched him in the face. Then, he took out a baseball bat and burst Larppy’s test tube, grabbed him by his wrist and they both did a backflip out the window.

“Why are all these special guest appearances showing up!” Gloop shouted in anger, kicking the ground and throwing various stuff out the window.

Larry silently stared at Gloop. “Lets watch TV. That always cheers me up!” Larryy said, as he got the remote and turned on the TV in Gloop’s lab.

The TV turned on and started lighting up the dark room. It was on a news channel, and the reporter was talking about something. “Breaking news!” The reporter said. “It has been revealed that Larppy was actually Larry in disguise this whole time. After a shocking speech given by the Waiter Chef, he revealed the truth that Larppy was possessing Larry this whole time, and Larry was possessing Larppy.”

“DAMN IT!” shouted Larry. “I need to see my Larrians. Hand me a memory eraser gun.”

Gloop throws Larry a memory erase gun and he starts driving his car towards Larry HQ, and gets out with the memory erase gun behind his back.

The Larrians shouted in joy when they saw Larry alive, and started asking him various questions, as Larry started programming the memory gun to erase their memories Larppy, and anything related to Larppy. Then he aimed it right towards the Larrians and fired, wiping their memories about Larppy out.

“Hey guys! All of our villains are back, we have to go on a mission to stop them!” Larry said to the Larrians.

“On it boss!” Responded the Larrians.

“Their evil lair is a sixty story building!” Larry said, as he turned on his car, and everyone got in, and started driving towards the skyscraper. Eventually arriving and going through the lobby into the elevator. After an hour of waiting they arrived at the top floor of the building, and saw a doorway guarded by Gloop.

“You're not getting in here guys!” Gloop says. “Can’t see anything similar to any of your names here, so skedaddle.”

“Oh yeah?” Andrew said. Grabbing Gloop, and throwing him out a window.

They kept running through the building, fighting off hordes of enemy guards until eventually reaching Mary's throne.

“Well well well! If it isn’t the Larrians.” Mary said. “I don’t feel like fighting right now, Gary, go kill these guys.” Mary said, as Gary charged towards the Larrians, but got punched by Gerald and knocked to the floor.

“Alright Mary.” Larry said. “You’re going right out of that window there.” Larry continued as he pointed to a window behind him with his thumb.

“No I’m not!” Shouted Mary, threateningly walking towards Larry, when suddenly she tripped on a banana peel and fell to the ground.

Liam then dragged Mary as Andrew broke the window by knocking on it two times, and Larry kicked her with his great big boot and she fell out the window.

As she fell, her shoelace got caught in a streetlight, preventing her death. “I’ll be back, pathetic Larrians!” She shouted. “And you won’t be ready.”

“Uh-huh...” Larry said. “Anyways, I’m going to make some changes to this team.” Larry said.

The Larrians nodded. “What is it?” Liam said.

“We’re getting two new employees, Coach Arm and Master Steckler, old friends of mine.”

“New friends!” Gerald said excitedly as he started jumping for joy in the air.

“And a new foe, granola bars. They are the root of all evil, so we must destroy them all.” Larry said, with his fist clenched.

“Pretty reasonable.” Liam said. All the other Larrians nodded in agreement.
